On the Day After the Indiana Primary

LaRouche To Give May 7 Webcast: 'TRAGEDY & HOPE'

April 29, 2008 (LPAC)—The post-Civil War conflict between Lincoln's republican United States, and the British Empire, which has defined world politics over the last 140 years, is coming imminently to a head in the course of the current U.S. Presidential campaign. Can the United States, and the planet, come out the winner? The only hope to prevent the tragedy of a British victory for the agenda of globalized war and destruction, is the election of a President who will revive the tradition of Franklin Delano Roosevelt, with the commitment to working with Russia, China, and India to set the world on the path to recovery.

Former Democratic Presidential candidate and economist Lyndon LaRouche, who has just released a report on "The U.S.A. 2008 Election," will address the election campaign in this context, at an international webcast from Washington, D.C., at 1 p.m. Eastern Daylight Time on May 7, 2008. The webcast will be available live at www.larouchepac.com.

As LaRouche noted recently, the centuries-long struggle between the British and their only competent rival, the United States, has now reached end-game. The British globalizers have bankrupted themselves and the world, and are now on an all-out offensive to maintain their power by launching new wars, specifically against the major Eurasian powers. The British-launched propaganda attacks on China and Russia, in particular—even their use of the maniac Dick Cheney to escalate confrontation in the Middle East—all threaten to detonate a world war unparalleled in its destructiveness, through brutal asymmetric conflict.

Think also of the genocidal British free trade policy in the food sector, and British agent Al Gore's push for bio-fuels, and it's clear that only the immediate reassertion of FDR-styled policies can prevent mass murder globally.

LaRouche, as head of LPAC, has committed himself to defending the U.S. Presidency to avert this barbarism. As the best Economist in human history, LaRouche is uniquely qualified to outline the successful strategy to defeat the British. To learn and join in, tune in to the May 7 webcast.
