

LAROCHE: OBAMA'S WORDS ARE A THREAT TO KILL

Friday, in a nationally broadcast interview on NPR Morning Edition, supposedly in response to allegations of Russian hacking of the DNC, President Barack Obama stated menacingly,

"I think there is no doubt that, when any foreign government tries to impact the integrity of our elections, that we need to take action, and we will, at a time and place of our choosing. Some of it may be explicit and publicized; some of it may not be. But Mr. Putin is well aware of my feelings about this, because I spoke to him directly about it."

LaRouche said, "These words are a threat to murder people of importance. This is what his [step] father taught him." LaRouche called on citizens to "watch this guy, that he doesn't kill." He is publicly threatening the world. "The nations of the planet are now threatened by Obama's plan for mass killing of people..."

Then at his White House press conference this afternoon, Obama repeated his threat against "Russian hacking." He said that he told Russia

"to stop it, and indicated there will be consequences when they do it... Our goal continues to be to send a clear message to Russia."

Further, Obama concurred with the CNN White House reporter's summation, that "The President thinks Vladimir Putin authorized the hack."

The charge of Russian interference in elections itself smells to high heaven, given that month after month, no evidence has been produced that would demonstrate Russia's guilt, but only incessantly-repeated assertions. Today, Russian presidential spokesman, Dmitry Peskov said that the United States should stop groundlessly accusing Russia of intervention.

"They should either stop talking about that, or produce some proof at last."

On Thursday, Obama Administration intelligence officials outright refused to go to Congress, when requested to do so by the House Intelligence Committee, to provide evidence in a close-door session. There have been multiple indications that other intelligence agencies do not agree with the CIA Director John Brennan's conclusion about Russian hacking.

The danger comes in from Obama's predilection for murder—and the fact that he is soon to be out of office, where he will have neither executive powers nor protection from possible prosecution for his crimes.

Look at the Obama record. There are his Tuesday target meetings to draw up victim-lists for killing-by-drones. There are the continued deployments of American men and women to their harm and death, in U.S. military service in the 16 years of Obama/Bush/British regime-change wars (Iraq, Afghanistan, Syria, Libya). Stateside, there are mass numbers of citizens suffering and dying from the Obama economic disaster, which he calls a successful recovery. Drug overdose and death rates are soaring.

Look at Obama's history. He comes by killing from his own upbringing, LaRouche has stressed many times. His step-father, Lolo Soetoro in Indonesia, was a killer-operative in the subversion and slaughter (1965-66) to bring down the government of President Sukarno. Obama wrote in his autobiography of how he learned that during that time, that killing the weak is what the strong do. (Dreams from My Father)

LaRouche noted that,

"internationally right now, we have people leading a world program for development and peace [the Eurasian New Silk Road, with Pres. Xi Jinping, along with Pres. Putin and others], but "Obama will not just let things get by peacefully."

They will kill; then the problem comes in, and it's a bloody mess." LaRouche emphasized that, "The signals are all there. Obama has made it clear."

LaRouche called for taking action to warn people. "Obama has made repeated efforts to show his readiness for large-scale killing in the United States and other nations." What needs to be done, is "to shut down Obama," to prevent what he intends to do.
