

The Choice is Posed

September 22, 2017—The great question posed to us by history at this moment, which stands to determine the course of future history, and even whether there will be future history, is whether or not the United States, under President Donald Trump, will join fully with China and Russia in the great project of the World Land-Bridge, while implementing the Four Laws of Lyndon LaRouche.

President Trump's Sept. 19 speech to the United Nations, which has been deliberately, completely distorted by the lying trans-Atlantic media, showed anyone who would take the time to read it, how close we are to being able finally to make these historic changes for the better—if we act now. As indicated in the short excerpts below, President Trump's actual, but unreported speech, was a passionate appeal to the power of the sovereign nation-state to improve the fate and condition of humanity, and for sovereign nation-states to join efforts in behalf of the human species, and, in effect, foster a new renaissance. Russian Foreign Minister Lavrov was responding correctly to the thrust of President Trump's address as a whole, when he characterized it as "remarkable," and "a very welcome statement, which we haven't heard from an American leader for a very long time."

At the same time, the harsh denunciations against four foreign governments were there as well. There is no need to repeat them here, because they are the only thing the media has covered from that speech, forever repeating and expanding on them. But they were ill-advised, and they increase the danger of war.

Our efforts now can make the difference for which way this goes, even in the short term. Will we defeat the coup-attempt against the President, finally freeing him to cooperate fully with Russia and China as he wishes to, and as he must? That will change everything.

With our hard-fought campaign against the "Russia-gate" hoax against the President, using the Veteran Intelligence Professionals for Sanity memorandum of July 24, we have inspired more forces to enter the fight, and helped inspire those already fighting to fight more decisively and tenaciously. Yesterday Bill Binney and Ray McGovern of the VIPS, fresh from speaking at the Manhattan EIR conference on Sept. 9, issued a new blockbuster article, "More Holes in Russia-Gate Narrative" on consortiumnews.com, soon to appear in EIR. They take the battle directly to the enemy, and make no concessions. Also yesterday, WikiLeaks head Julian Assange tweeted that neither Robert Mueller's team, nor the U.S. Senate Intelligence Committee had "bothered" to contact WikiLeaks or himself. This invalidates their entire so-called investigations—that they would make no attempt to contact a party uniquely holding decisive, and perhaps conclusive evidence.

Now Hurricane Irma has "obliterated" Puerto Rico, as President Trump said, as never before in its history. Its power grid has been destroyed, and will have to be rebuilt from the ground up. There is massive flooding. The Federal government is responding to the emergency, but the bigger issue is immediately posed: rebuilding all the stricken areas of the U.S., and putting the right, new, infrastructure in place, cannot be done short of the LaRouche Plan and LaRouche's Four Laws, with massive issuance of Federal credit, as called for in LaRouche's Emergency Plan of Action of August 31.
