

Seven Days in June

The week between Friday June 21 and Friday June 28—the week now underway—can be shaped as a major turning point in the global strategic situation, in the direction of a New Paradigm to replace the bankrupt British Empire, that Lyndon and Helga LaRouche have long promoted.

On Friday, June 21, the LaRouche movement premiered its shocking new feature video, “The LaRouche Case: Robert Mueller’s First Hit Job,” which is being widely disseminated internationally along with the video of the June 8 Memorial “The Triumph of Lyndon H. LaRouche, Jr.,” and the petition calling on President Donald Trump to exonerate LaRouche. A week later, on Friday, June 28, the G20 will hold a summit in Osaka, Japan, where Trump will meet with Chinese President Xi Jinping and may also meet with Russian President Vladimir Putin—among other crucial diplomacy.

In between, this week, the world continues to teeter on the brink of World War III, which, if it is unleashed, could well mean thermonuclear war. As Helga Zepp-LaRouche stated in her weekly webcast on June 21:

“Who does not wake up and know that we are on the verge of World War III? Such a person is not in the real world. We are closer to World War III than at any time, I would say, in the entire postwar period. That danger is not yet gone. I think it’s a very good thing that Trump intervened at the last moment [to call off air strikes against Iran], but it was 10 minutes before the attack! People should really realize that this is not a joke.... If this would have happened, we may have been on the way to World War III; and that is not an exaggeration.”

And although the world was able to dodge the bullet a few times in recent weeks, there is every reason to believe that the British Empire and their war party in the United States—the Boltens, Pompeos and Pencos of the political scene—will attempt new “false flag” provocations in the days ahead. Those who would downplay the danger of war, Zepp-LaRouche stressed, actually increase that danger, by putting a damper on the required mobilization to stop war.

What kind of mobilization is needed, in Zepp-LaRouche’s view? The entire old paradigm of British free trade and geopolitics which is driving the world inexorably to war, must be replaced with a Four Power Agreement for global economic development, of the sort specified by Lyndon LaRouche, among the U.S., China, Russia and India—all of whose leaders will be present at the G20 summit in Osaka starting June 28. Trump is scheduled to meet with Xi; and in extensive comments to the press on June 20 and then again on June 23, Putin once again expressed his willingness to sit down with Trump to address the thorniest of strategic issues. These are opportunities that must not be missed, which can serve as the foundation for the crucial, profound changes that must follow. As Zepp-LaRouche stated in her webcast:

“As for the G20 meeting, if this blows up, it may be that the last chance to have peace will be lost. And on the other side, you have the potential of Trump meeting Putin and Xi Jinping in particular, and finding a solution to the many problems of this world.... We absolutely have to change the paradigm; the war party must be stopped; Trump must be enabled to carry out his intentions to improve relations with Russia and China, which he has stated many times,” Zepp-LaRouche stressed.

President Trump, however, is facing a British-orchestrated dual power situation in the country—even within his own administration—and must be strengthened, urged, and pressured to use the G20 summit to change the entire direction of global strategy. The exoneration of Lyndon LaRouche is the fulcrum to make such a dramatic shift achievable.

“It may not be obvious for many people,” Zepp-LaRouche asserted, “but if Lyndon LaRouche is not exonerated, I do not think that we can stop the present drumbeat to World War III. Because his exoneration and neutralizing the war machine which is driving the world towards World War III, that’s one and the same thing. Because it was that apparatus that prosecuted my husband, despite the fact that he was completely innocent of all accusations, which is exactly the war party driving the world to the verge of extinction.”

For that reason, Zepp-LaRouche reiterated, “Our aim is to get these videos out everywhere and get them acted on; which means we need to have the exoneration of Lyndon LaRouche.”